Based on media reports, he does fit the profile.

The problem, of course, is getting people--even psychologists, it seems--to get in front of the problem.

Did you catch the behavioral leakage? Wanting to research military fratricide?

Dude, this is sounding like a vast right wing conspiracy...

Also: I am reminded to appreciate my slugs. I tend to think even working with vertebrates would be emotionally draining... (Though after yesterday's seminar I'm halfway ready to shuck it all and go work on electric fish. Electric fish!!)

Working with vertebrates is incredibly draining. I work with vertebrates, and I'll tell you what.

If I'm involved, ain't nothing right-wing about it. The conspiracy part, I can neither confirm nor deny.

And in conclusion, Electric fish!!
